

Combating Corruption, Battling Black Money

Corruption is a deadly disease for any nation
That hampers the ethical development
Limits the functioning of any organization
When people start taking it as an entitlement.

Corruption, big or small, is very bad
That spoils even those who are good
It needs to be stopped by one and all
And it's easy when there is a leader, standing tall.

Corruption combating needs sincere effort
With a strength that comes from inside
To say NO, and kill the urge like a pest
Doesn't matter, you are on which side.

Corruption is the biggest source of Black Money
And also those who says, "no taxes honey"
It doesn't contribute for the nation to grow
So, we continue with development that's slow.

Give and take is the best policy
So, pay taxes and get the satisfaction;
Embrace the attitude of honesty
And see the good use of your contribution.

Black money only brings trouble
Making your health issues double
Being clean gives you the peace
To roam with head high, you see.

Corruption and Black Money are the two sins
We must vow to eliminate from our society
Taking the first step, starting with ourselves
With a commitment that's absolutely mighty.

We must realize and accept, it's our duty
No matter whatever is the situation
We will abide by our determination, truly
To make our next gen see India as a developed nation.

By Girish Elchuri, Bengaluru

(Written for Gol competition under the topic of this title)