

Lucky 2013

---

*As we stare at the future
It's uncertain and feels scary
As we had no time to nurture
Our environment, ignoring it fully.*

*The home is not the four walls we live-in Nor the city we are located-in
It's not just the country for us to zoom-in
But the whole world, for us to focus-in.*

*There are places that we don't see daily
But we surely know they exist somewhere
Which are melting and collapsing totally
With devastating effects that we will feel everywhere.*

*Our lives are busy and unstoppable
Taking concrete actions is unthinkable
Tragedies have not touched us, so we are unmindful
And so we ignore, that is unpardonable.*

*We had Messages few years back
We Wish-ed to do something, pulling our slack
We had a Dream of where we want to live
And Hope-d the best will come out and we will shine.*

*And now comes, so called unlucky thirteen
And we pray to get sense into all of us
And so we have one more chance, if we are keen
And we can live in a world that won't affect us.*

*Let this year bring luck into our lives
For all that we want to achieve
Bringing happiness along with the smiles
And years of peace that we badly crave.*
