

Realize 2018

The world may not be ending tomorrow
But we will be left with nothing to borrow
From the environs of our planet earth
As resources and species are fast on to death.

We don't know whether God created us
Or we created the God to bless us
But definitely the destruction is self made
Just can't blame the God for all that's going to fade.

We ignore the signs that are very visible
And the voices of the scientists, clearly audible
It's sheer greed and laziness that drives our routine
Here comes, surely, the devastating destine.

The time is running out, quickly and desperately
If we don't do the needful, immediately,
The nature will kick-off its program, automatically
To replenish and recover, for a fresh start, systematically.

If we want to be part of that new start
We need to end all the destruction, now and fast
Don't wait for a leader to show us the light
It's you and me who can make the future bright.

It's time to realize, what's happening all around
You will see examples all over in abound
It's time for a solid action from each one of us
Sincerely focusing on our only home, without any fuss.

Wishing you all a Very Happy New Year
Hoping our next gen can celebrate the New Year
The way we all did for years, happily
And so they can live on, thanking us, smilingly.

Wishing You all A Very Happy, Peaceful & Realizing New Year

Girish Elchuri
Hima Bindu