

Dear Earth Citizens,

Water Water going away

Severe shortage is on the way

Time for action, what do you say

Conservation is surely call of the day.

The ways to save water is not rocket science

We should have the right attitude and conscience

All we need is strong will to realize and act

And we need to start that today and fast.

It's about little sacrifices we make today

And the care for the nature for it to stay

Ensuring our future generations to live happily

Thanking us for what we gave them, surely.

Oceans are huge and massive

Still every drop that comes-in matters

Same way, every contribution to nature we give

Helps it preserve and not going into tatters.

Let's start a new habit

Accept we are in deep crisis

Living of ways, to do our bit

Thus we consume less resources.

Let's make it happen

Spread the word to the world ...
